CA Staff merely wished to alert us to this problem since this employee's supervisor has supported him and one or both may resort to congressional complaint. It was agreed that this office would take no action since there was no indication as to which members of congress might be involved.

2. [REDACTED] Mr. Buarque, in the office of Representative Thomas F. Johnson, called again in connection with the case of [REDACTED]. He indicated the representative is most upset that this individual was not employed by the Agency again stating that [REDACTED] is able to use his vision in precise and sometimes dangerous work. I told Mr. Buarque that while this might be true, we admittedly had rather strict medical requirements and our Medical office could not approve him for overseas duty. I reminded him again that we had attempted to find a position for him which would not involve overseas assignment, but had been unsuccessful in this. He asked if we would take another look at the case because the representative is sufficiently interested that he may register a complaint at a high level. He made a point of the fact that [REDACTED] had been in process for some time and apparently was about set to receive an appointment to a position when this "medical defect" was detected. He could not understand why it would take so long to make the determination that he was not fit for overseas duty. I told Buarque I would discuss the case again with our Personnel people.

25X1 1. [redacted] of OCI and I met with Dorothy Fosdick and Robert Tufts to work out some general terms of reference for our new studies for the Jackson Subcommittee - the National Security Staffing and Operations Subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Government Operations. A full hour's discussion was held on which [redacted] kept notes. A completion date has been established of 1 January 1963 with the view that there will be a further get together on this about 1 December 1962.

25X1 2. [redacted] In response to a query from the office of Senator Ralph Yarborough, I called Miss Spiller, of his staff, and advised that [redacted] had been interviewed on 8 August and was tested on 30 August and that the results of the tests should be available the first part of next week. I said I would call her when we have further information. She thanked us for the response and apologized for causing this much effort on the part of the Agency.

25X1 3. [redacted] Advised by [redacted] Personnel, that Mr. Tinsley, Bureau of Employees Compensation, advised today that it will be necessary for the Bureau to respond to the House Judiciary Committee that they should contact the employing agency with regard to [redacted]
